Effective communication is pivotal to patient safety. It determines our effectiveness when we work in teams. Leading Out of Drama (LOD) teaches the skills to harness Compassion in our interaction with others in order to achieve a win-win outcome. LOD was developed over ten years ago by Nate Regier and his team at Next Element. Nate has tracked the impact of the skills over this time with his Next Element Outcomes System. Further information is available at: <https://www.next-element.com>

You will be asked to complete two brief questionnaires prior to attending. One will generate your Drama Resilience Assessment (DRA), a snapshot in time of your behaviour.

All materials, morning tea, lunch and afternoon tea are provided. The training is recommended for anyone who deals with people. The skills have impact both personally and professionally.

Cost: AUD 770 (including GST). CPD: ANZCA and RACS
